BANK SUIT TAKEN UP TODAY AT WASHINGTON

In the suit of the Mellon National Bank, of Pittsburgh, against the Peoples Bank, of California, which was called this morning at the conclusion of the suit now on trial before Judge Taylor, there is involved three cashier's checks, each payable to M. L. Burd, the total amount of the claim being $3,896.33 with interest on $3,768.40 from February 1, 1908. The plaintiff bank alleges that three checks went through the regular work of the Peoples Bank and were credited to them by the cashier at the time of the transaction, O. F. Piper. The plaintiff bank sets forth that prior to June 1, 1907, it did business with the Peoples Bank, of California, and transmitted to it from time to time checks, notes and other negotiable papers for collection, and that the defendant bank from time to time collected said checks and other paper, and in an itemized statement acknowledged monthly its indebtedness to the plaintiff bank.

It is further averred that on June 13, 1907, the plaintiff bank transmitted to the defendant bank certain checks and other papers for collection, among these being a cashier's check, issued by the defendant bank through its cashier, for $2,000 to the order of M. L. Burd, and endorsed by the Monongahela National Bank of Brownsville. On June 14, 1907, they were, the defendant bank acknowledged the receipt and collection of said check, and accompanied a notice of credit in favor of the plaintiff bank. June 19, 1907, it is averred, other checks were transmitted to the defendant bank among them cashier's check for $1,800, payable to M. L. Burd. This was followed by a letter of acknowledgment for the receipt and collection and a notice of credit, including the amount, $1,800. Further it is averred that in a statement furnished plaintiff bank the defendant bank acknowledged a certain indebtedness. July 10, 1907, another cashier's check to the order of M. L. Burd for $2,000 was sent the defendant bank and notice of credit later received by the plaintiff bank. Averments of statements of plaintiff's account with the bank are set forth, all being signed by O. F. Piper, cashier.

The defendant bank denied the indebtedness averred by the plaintiff bank.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IN BIG AMOUNT

Yesterday in the suit of G. V. Hamory against the Pittsburgh, Monongahela and Southern Railroad company the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,500. This is $2,000 less than the jury awarded him at a former trial the case having been sent back for trial by the supreme court.

The claim was for damages for land taken for right of way purposes at the village of Millsboro. The case was heard before Judge Taylor, being taken up last week. The jurors, who had been carried over from last week's panel, were given permission to remain on duty, there being a shortage of jurors present for the coming two weeks of court.

It is doubtful if an appeal will be taken.

At Coyle Tuesday.

The "Monte Carlo Burlesquers," which comes to the Coyle theatre next Tuesday is far from being a new one in the burlesque field and has made more than good everywhere. Their entertainment will consist of two up-to-date burlettas entitled "An Adamless Eden" and "Ain't It Awful Mabel" in each of which the entire company takes part and furnish good wholesome fun and lively musical numbers. The vaudeville part is of the highest order and the scenic and costuming the prettiest. Don't fail to be on hand as the indications are that there will be a large sale.

CHARLEROI DEFEATS BROWNSVILLE BUNCH

Charleroi defeated Brownsville last night on the Colonial alleys. J. Jones had high score with 213 and Wilson high average with 180. Score:

Wants State Highway.

Canonsburg, March 11.—J. W. Howell, of Cecil township, in common with other citizens living on either side of the public road leading from Canonsburg to McDonald, is anxious to see the state department of highways grant the petition of the people for a permanently improved highway between the towns; the road to be built under the provisions of the Sprout act, which provides that the work be done by the state and that the state bear six-eighths of the cost, and the county and township each one-eighth.

Mr. Howell mentions as one proof of the interest which the people have in the proposed state road the fact that James Tannenill of Chartiers township, will, in case it is decided to build the road, make a contribution of $200 addition to pay his share in the way of taxes. This shows a good spirit, and is proof that the people are more and more coming to appreciate good highways; and also that they are rapidly arriving at the point where they are willing to help pay for them.

This community is only rightly entering on the era of building good roads in this Canonsburg district.

Social Session.

FREEDOM OF VERY SHORT DURATION

Howard A. Beck, who on Tuesday evening escaped from Detective H. K. Sarver of Washington, while in his custody enjoyed but a brief period of liberty. Detective Sarver and Washington police officers made a search on Tuesday night after his escape but were unable to locate him.

Yesterday it was learned the much wanted man had left for Marianna and the officers at that place were notified to be on the lookout. Upon his arrival there yesterday afternoon he was arrested. He was taken to Monongahela last evening and from there to the local jail.

Beck has been wanted by Officer Sarver since last December when it is alleged he stole a number of articles of furniture and clothing from the home of Mrs. Annie Masloy on East Maiden street, Washington. He made his appearance in Washington for the first time on Tuesday and was immediately arrested. He was held for a hearing before Justice Gantz Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FICKLE WEATHER CONDITIONS BRING DOWN THE WIRES

This has been a terrible month for the telegraph companies owing to the storms which have raged in the East and West. The storm which swept the east and isolated Washington and Baltimore from communication with other towns cause linemen and materials from every part of the country to be rushed to the scene of the trouble. These men had just whipped things in fairly good shape when a hurry call came from Chicago saying that a bad storm had torn down hundreds of wires leading into the Windy City. The crews were rushed westward as quickly as possible.

Fickle is the proper word to use in describing the weather which has prevailed for the last few days, but taken in its entirety it hasn't been half bad. Occasional showers have caused the streams to swell and in spots there are signs of the spring foliage beginning to emerge from the hibernation of winter.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING TONIGHT AT FAYETTE CITY

Tonight at Fayette City, the Epworth Leagues of the Brownsville District will convene and the prospects are for a large and enthusiastic gathering. There will be a business session, after which Rev. G. E. Brennenman of the Monessen M. E. church will speak. It is thought that several from Charleroi will attend.

Miners at Work.

The miners who were out on strike at the Vesta mines are now all back at work. Agreements were reached between the officials and the miners and the latter went back yesterday.

PARTY OF INSPECTORS ARE STILL AT WORK HERE

The Health inspectors of which mention was made on Tuesday in this paper are still here and pursuing their duties with a will. The inspectors are sent out by the State department of the Health Board. They have worked parts of three counties, and making their headquarters in Charleroi are working two, Washington and Westmoreland.

There are three working in Charleroi while there are two in Monessen. They are investigating sewers, which, by the way, is the principal object for which they are out. The sewers in Charleroi are in fairly good condition, it is understood, but those of other towns in this vicinity are not so good. The regular rate of fall for sewers is one inch for every four feet, and the men are laying particular stress on this matter.

The head of the party working in this section, W. C. Clark is in Harrisburg, and is expected to return today. After that the work will be pushed with a vengeance. The townships will be visited.

Among other things interesting to Charleroi people which will be taken up is that of the water. The condition of this is inspected, and a thorough report is made to the Attorney General, under whose direct instructions the party is working.

The counties which have been worked thus far are Fayette, Allegheny, and part of Westmoreland. It is not known where the party will go after they leave here.

W. J. BRYAN IN THIS SECTION YESTERDAY

William Jennings Bryan was again in this section yesterday giving a lecture at the California Normal in the morning. Mr. Bryan was heard by a large number at that place, and many from Charleroi were in attendance.

Immediately after his talk at the Normal, Mr. Bryan in company with others left for Canonsburg, where he was to lecture, in an automobile. The muddy roads were the cause of considerable trouble, and in some places the automobile stuck. It was necessary for the party, including the Great Commoner to get out and push. By the time they arrived in the county seat all were covered with mud. There was many a joke at Mr. Bryan's expense concerning the matter.

In the evening he lectured at Waynesburg. At each of the latter two places he was well received, and many heard his popular addresses. At Canonsburg, he was introduced as the "greatest orator of the present age, of this or foreign countries."

AGED MAN FALLS FROM COUCH AND IS BADLY INJURED

Independence, March 11.—As the result of falling out of bed Richard Stocks an octogenarian and a Civil war veteran of this place, is lying at the home of R. J. Adams suffering from a fractured hip. His condition is very serious.

Mr. Stocks, who is 82 years of age, has been staying at the home of Mr. Adams for some time and has been confined to his room by a severe cold. At 11:30 o'clock in some manner Mr. Stocks fell from the bed. He called for assistance and it was found that the hip had been fractured. A physician was summoned.

CANONSBURG BOY DISAPPEARED FROM HOME RECENTLY

Canonsburg, March 11.—The disappearance of Frank Lennox, the 19-year-old son of W. H. Lennox, of near this place four weeks ago, has caused his parents to little anxiety and search for the past month has failed to throw any light on the whereabouts of the missing son. Mr. Lennox has made an appeal to the officers over the county. It is not thought that he has met with foul play but it is believed that he is wandering about.

The boy disappeared from home on Tuesday, February 9, while Mr. Lennox was in Washington. He left home without any warning and since has not been heard of with the exception of the afternoon he left home. He was then seen at McConnells Mills. Little was thought of the boy's failure to come home on the night of the day he left but the following day when he failed to put in an appearance the family became alarmed.

The boy is not very tall and weighs about 125 pounds and has rather a dark complexion. He has brown hair, rather curly, and dark brown eyes. When he left home he wore a low crowned soft black hat and a greenish colored coat and dark trousers. He also wore a pair of gray trousers under the dark colored trousers.

Mr. Lennox desires that any person seeing his son will either hold the boy or notify Mr. Lennox at Canonsburg, R. D. 1, at once.

GETS ATTACHMENT ON THE HIGH FLYERS

Uniontown, March 11.—A foreign attachment was issued yesterday against Harry Foster, owner or reputed owner of the High Flyers Burlesque company, at the suit of Robert S. Coyle, of Charleroi, to recover $100 damages alleged to have been sustained when the show failed to put in an appearance at the Coyle theatre in Charleroi on March 6. The action was brought through Attorney Edw. Willson Boyd. The papers were placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Joseph H. King, who went to Connellsville last evening to "look the show over." 17812

The Proposed Compromise.

A few weeks ago we thought there was going to be a compromise of the suits between the Charleroi Water company and the Borough, and three citizens versus the Water company, but as yet there seems, in short, to be "nothing doing." It is now up to the Water company to agree to the terms as presented by the attorneys of this borough or go to a suit. They seem to be in no haste whatever, and nothing can be heard of their probable action. In the meantime, the citizens are using stuff, that President Mellon
of the Water company himself said he would not use, and our chances for the betterment of the situation for many months are to say the least very slim. What does President Mellon expect us all to do? Move out? If the water is not fit for use, and we are not not get any filtration plant, that must be his idea. The incongruities of the suggestion are laughable. The water is impure and unfit for use, but we must pay our minimum of three dollars per quarter all the same.

If the Water company of their own volition will not take up the matter of compromise and pass upon it at once, let the council get busy and bring the matter to a head. The citizens want pure water, and has been said before they do not care how they get it. If the Charleroi Water company does not get busy and furnish it, then why not take the franchise off their hands. What is the use of waiting months and perhaps years for the purpose of learning if the company is willing to compromise. They made the first proposition and if they are willing to accept the terms, let them
get busy, and if not, push the affair
to the county courts, and the more haste the better. It would be a good idea if council should instruct the attorneys to this effect at the next meeting. We have waited too long already and if the case is to go to the county courts the sooner it gets there the better it would be for every citizen of this town. But if the company wishes to settle, as they manifestly do, a little urging would do them good.

Decrease in 1907.

It is interesting to note that there was considerable of a decrease in the mortality from typhoid in this country in the year 1907, the statistics of which have just been compiled and made public. In every state except three this was true. These exceptions are New York, New Jersey and Colorado.

Naturally when one thinks of the decrease they turn to the probable cause. It is simply this—the Health departments are pursuing their duties with a remarkable faithfulness and accomplishing wonders. They are in other words cleaning out places,
and instead of allowing filth, and dirt,
are conducting a crusade for cleanliness, and in this way getting at the real root of the matter. Typhoid is contracted most often from drinking impure water, which has in some way become filled with the germs, or in the living in filth and coming in contact with impure substances. It is more often the former however.

Wonderful to say Charleroi has not suffered much from typhoid, yet at the same time the residents are using stuff that could hardly be classified
in the same category as that of water,
—it is so dirty and impure. But the fact that the Health Board has been so persistent in the warnings of the people to beware of using the liquid without boiling, has been greatly responsible for this.

Electric Sparks.

Most people seem to think that if they preach a thing in a loud shout they need not practice it even in a faint whisper.

That variety of persons who are trying to prove that they are just as good as you are additions to the fatigue of society.

A pretty young girl of Duquesne
Was wooed by a penniless suesne,
Said she, "Without dough
You're in wrong, you know;
Sough beat it—you give me a pue-sne."

Another evidence of "his" popularity is the growing enthusiasm with which all kinds and conditions of people are bidding him good-by.

Seventy per cent of the Government expenditures are for military outlay, past, present or future. Can any other nation on a peace footing beat it?

We may expect soon to hear of men
"running" for office upon a ticket
that denounces the veniform appendix as a foe to our public institutions and
a menace to the constitution.

Secretary of State, a United States Senator, the biggest man on the floor of congress, Speaker of the House at Harrisburg, and the chairman of the House and Senate appropriations committees—anything the matter with Western Pennsylvania?

The newest British war ship has no funnel. Seems a bit uncanny coming so close on the noiseless gun.
Couldn't it be arranged to have warships navigate keel upward and complete the innovation?

If British postal authorities were
as alert as our own, a suffragette would be excluded from the mails at once as an infernal machine.

Will the Panama fat never stop sizzling? President Obaldia now pays his respects to the American Congress. "I have reformed my belief regarding responsibility of its members," he says. Among them are liars indecent and ignorant in a superlative degree.

A little girl who saved the lives of nine children in the General Slocum disaster is to be rewarded with a medal for bravery. It is a gracious and a fitting recognition of one who saves lives. But what about the persons who were really responsible for the Slocum horror?

After trying for a great many years to tell the editors of Germany how a newspaper should be run, the Kaiser has seen a great light and has determined to ask the newspapers to give him advice on running the government.

That Alabama man who stole socks when his sweetheart wouldn't look at him because he didn't have any, found out that love does not also laugh at socksmiths.

That McKees Rocks man who was poisoned at Wilmerding by a bowl of restaurant soup owes his life to the fact that he didn't get it in Mon-essen.

TOO MUCH ANALYSIS.

[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]

My Dear Mr. Gregory—I have considered the proposition with which you have honored me earnestly, thoughtfully, prayerfully. It behooves us who are past middle age to weigh well a step of such gigantic importance to us both. I acknowledge to forty-two, and you have told me that you are fifty-five. Are we not both too set in our ways to live together as husband and wife? I will admit that there are certain things about man in the abstract that I do not like. He has inherited from ages of acknowledged superiority dominating traits. Nevertheless man is like a great big good natured dog—unconscious of his power or, if conscious of it, loath to use it against our sex. He is unaware of the delicacy of a woman's feelings and often stalks through them in seven league boots. In this he is brutal though without intending to be brutal. I am going over in my mind some of these idiosyncrasies of man in the abstract with a view to determining whether I had better venture. I admit that I am undecided. I will try to arrive at a decision at an early date and inform you. Sincerely,
Elizabeth Montgomery.

My Dear Miss Montgomery—You are not expected to marry an abstract man, but one Gregory. I do not look upon you simply as woman, but as one woman whom I love. Woman is a perpetual paradox, a chronic conundrum, an unknown quantity of unexpected possibilities and contradictions. She is man's greatest blessing and the ultimate cause of all his troubles. She is his chief inspiration to all that is good and noble and his greatest temptation to folly and sin. You see by these few idiosyncrasies of your sex that a man who marries abstract woman is a fool. My love is all concentrated on an individual, and that individual is your own sweet self. I am, with undying affection, yours,
Algernon Gregory.

Dear Mr. Gregory—If I was undecided before, your note has rendered me far more chary of linking my fate with one who has such peculiar ideas concerning my sex. Besides, since writing you other traits of men have come up before me for consideration, and I confess that many of them are not attractive. Man is a sensual creature, with no conception of a pure or holy love unalloyed with passion. He will roar like a lion at his wife before dinner and hand her his pocketbook after he has filled his stomach. He expects her to wear a smile when he comes home tired from his daily avocation, then proceeds at dinner to spill claret over her new tablecloth and after dinner to fill the curtains with the detestable odor of tobacco.

I am still thinking of your flattering proposition. Cordially, Elizabeth Montgomery.

My Dear Miss Montgomery—I fear I did not make my meaning plain to you. If woman is a paradox, she is a very delightful paradox—that is, at times if woman is the cause of man's trouble, it must be admitted to her credit that as soon as he shakes off a trouble with one woman he is crazy to walk into another trouble with another woman. Is it not his own fault if he complains when the woman he loves is silent, then wishes to bottle her when she talks him to death? And why will a man tire a woman with every form of devotion when there are so many examples of the clinging affection of women for their wife beating husbands? These are truths which invite our careful consideration. With the usual expressions of affection,
Algernon Gregory.

Mr. Gregory—I am thoroughly convinced that no man entertaining such notions of women in the abstract is fit to take a wife. The consequences of my acceptance of your offer, such consequences being derived from your letters, would be as follows: I should at once plunge you into trouble, tempt you to sin. You would wish to escape from your alliance with me to enter upon another alliance with another woman. I should tire of your devotion for what you would doubtless call devotion and encourage you to treat me. Such being the case, I have decided to decline your very flattering offer with sincere thanks. Yours respectfully,
Elizabeth Montgomery.

Dear Miss Montgomery—If I were not loath to use my power against your sex I would be tempted to hold you to an accountability under the doctrine of categorical syllogisms for your logical deductions. On my part I began this series of notes by pronouncing your sex "an unknown quantity of unexpected possibilities." You have proved yourself a woman in the abstract as well as an individual. During this correspondence I have formed my conclusions as to what you would certainly do. I thought of what you might be expected to do, then assumed that you would do the opposite. My prognosis has been in every respect correct.

But enough of this, I pronounce you, woman as you are, the dearest object on earth, and I shall pass a lonely old age unless you make it unmeasurably happy. Sweetheart, I am
Your Lover.

Dearest Algernon—Come and see me tomorrow evening.
GWENDOLIN ADAMS.

NEW Table Linen

Beautiful Snowy White Linens--just here--prettier than we have ever had before. Table Linens in widths and qualities with Napkins to match.

The Linens you buy here can be depended upon. You can rely on them wearing good, for we select them with the greatest care from the stock of the largest and most famous Linen Importer in the country.

New Dress Goods

The new stock for spring is here. And its full and complete. We pride ourselves on only selling good worthy wearable cloths. The kind you can depend on for color and service. There are lots of times we could buy a cloth that would look just as good and on which we could make a larger profit. But our dress goods must come up to our standard, must be good in every way even if we make but little profit. So while the variety is large the price and quality are right.

Carpets and Rugs

All we ask of you is to come and see -- We know that we are far and away the largest dealers and own and sell our Carpets and Rugs for less than any one else. We know that if you once see our immense stock you will realize at once that this is the only place to buy. You can look at our hundred and fifty or more full room sized rugs are different. Is there another dealer in the valley that can show you half as many?

Personal Mention

Miss Minnie Richardson is spending the day in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. William Oppenheim left this morning for Pittsburgh, where she will visit friends and relatives.

Misses Hester and Della Jacobs are spending the day in Pittsburgh with friends.

H. P. Riley has left for Philadelphia to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, who died Monday night.

Harvey Birge of Frosty Run, Greene county, is visiting a few days in Charleroi with friends.

Rev. William E. Rambo, rector of Christ church, Brownsville, preached last night at St. Mary's Episcopal church. There was a good number present.

Rev. L. W. Shey, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal church here, occupied the pulpit of Christ Episcopal church at Brownsville last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Price, Mrs. Della Halsted and H. E. Price attended the funeral of Henry Dean at Uniontown yesterday. Mr. Dean was the nephew of the former. He was killed last Saturday morning by coming in contact with a live wire heavily charged at Laporte, Ind.

Fulfilling His Agreement.

Having become tired of living in rented houses, Mr. Gwimble had bought a home of his own. Not having enough money to pay for it outright he had made a cash payment of $1,000 and given a trust deed on the property for the remainder. One night, not long after he had taken possession of his new home, Mrs. Gwimble roused him from a deep sleep.

"Gerald," she said, "somebody is trying to get into the house."

Mr. Gwimble crawled out of bed and started downstairs.

"What are you going to do?" she asked him.

"I'm going to let him in," he answered, half awake.

"To let him in? What?"

Ancient Egyptian Stones.

Stones were formed into the shapes of beetles by the ancient Egyptians. They regarded the beetle as an emblem of immortality, and hence it was the most popular of all forms of ornament. Counterfeit beetles of common stones were commonly buried with dead persons, and it was customary to engrave upon them the expression of wishes for future repose and happiness, dedications of the soul to God and various hieroglyphs. One of the latter was a hawk with a human head, symbolizing resurrection. Another, the vulture, meant maternity. A goose was the son of a king.

Sorting Pearls.

The Gems Vary Greatly in Size, Shape and Quality.

When the pearls are taken from the dead fish they are first sorted according to size. This is done by passing them through a set of ten small brass sieves, called baskets, with meshes of varying sizes. Pearls of the first class that are perfect both in sphericity and in luster are called ant. Those of the second class, that to the average observer seem equally without flaw, are anitari, and most of the pearls we see in the west and on general sale come under this head. Of the third class, called masanku, are those that are somewhat irregular in shape and a trifle off in color, but that are valuable for use in clusters and are largely used by eastern artificers in mountings of various sorts. Kural is the double or twinned pearl, which, when of good luster and sufficiently freakish shape, is sometimes enormously valuable. In this class the most wonderful specimen on record is the great Southern Cross pearl, which is in reality nine pearls naturally grown together and forming a perfect cross an inch and a half long. It was found off the coast of Western Australia in 1874. Many seed pearls and rejections, called yadiva, are generally ground into chunam and used as an ingredient in a favorite sweetmeat. From China also comes a heavy demand for seed pearls, and in India bushes of them literally are used in the decoration of idols and sacred images and of weapons as well. --Everybody's.

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. -- "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that I could not do my work in Chicago, said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured." -- MRS. ALYSSA SPERLING, 11 Langdon Street, Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. PARTY OF INSPECTORS
ARE STILL AT WORK HERE

The head of the party working in this section, W. C. Clark is in Harrisburg, and is expected to return today. After that the work will be pushed with a vengeance. The townships will be visited.

There are three working in Charleroi while there are two in Monessen. They are investigating sewers, which by the way, is the principal object for which they are out. The sewers in Charleroi are in fairly good condition, it is understood, but those of other towns in this vicinity are not so good. The regular rate of fall for sewers is one inch for every four feet. up is that of the water. The condition of this is inspected, and a thorough report is made to the Assistant General, under whose direct instructions the party is working. The counties which have been worked thus far are Fayette, Allegheny, and part of Westmoreland. I is not known where the party will go after they leave here.

FICKLE WEATHER CONDITIONS BRING DOWN THE WIRES

This has been a terrible month. In the telegraph companies owing to the storms which have raged in the East and West. The storm which swept the east and isolated Washington and Baltimore from communication with other towns cause linemen and materials from every part of the country to be rushed to the scene of the trouble. These men had just whipped things into a fair good shape when a heavy storm from Chicago saying that a bad storm had torn down hundreds of wires leading into the Windy City. The crews were rushed westward as quickly as possible.

Fickle is the proper word to use in describing the weather which has prevailed for the last few days, but taken in its entirety it hasn't been half bad. Occasional showers have caused the streams to swell and in spots there are signs of the spring foings beginning to emerge from the hibernation of winter.

EPWORTH LEAGUE
MEETING TONIGHT

Tonight at Fayette City, the Eworth Leagues of the Brownsville District will convene and the prospect are for a large and enthusiastic gathering. There will be a business session after which Rev. G. E. Brennum, the Monessen M. E. church will speak. It is thought that several from Chabolo will attend.

Miners at Work.

The miners who were out on strike at the Vesta mines are now all back at work. Agreements were reached between the officials and the miners and the latter went back yesterday.

Canonsburg, March 11.—J. W. Howell, of Cecil township, in company with other citizens living on either side of the public road leading from Canonsburg to McDonald, is anxious to see the state department of highways grant the petition of the people for a permanently improved highway between the towns: the road to be built under the provisions of the Sprent act, which provides that the work be done by the state and that the state bear six-eighths of the cost and the county and township each one-eighth.

Sam Franks received a fine Bel Buckle at J. W. McKean's Auction last night. This is the seventh present given by Mr. McKean to those attending the Auction. There are yet 13 presents to be given away. Chairs are reserved for the ladies each night and each night the attendance has increased. For tonight Mr. McKean has secured the service of one of the finest Auctioneers in Pittsburg. Come to the sale tonight and get a ticket. Sale begins at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Howell mentions as one proof of the interest which the people have in the proposed state road the fact that James Tannenhill of Chertle township, will, in case it is decided to build the road, make a contribution of $200 addition to pay his share of the way of taxes. This shows a good spirit, and is proof that the people are more and more coming to appreciate good highways; and also that they are rapidly arriving at the point where they are willing to help pay for them.

This community is only right entering on the era of building good roads in this Canonsburg district.

GOOD EVENING.

Love for one's neighbor without love for God is a growth without any roots. Such love is either prejudice in favor of certain people that please us, or it is a quest after human glory.
—Tolstoy.

The Proposed Compromise.

A few weeks ago we thought there
was going to be a compromise of the snits between the Charleroi Water company and the Borough, and three
citizens versus the Water company, but
as yet there seems, in short, to be
"nothing doing." It is now up to the Water company to agree to the
terms as presented by the attorneys
of this borough or go to a suit. They seem to be in no haste whatever, and
nothing can be heard of their probable
action. In the meantime, the citizens
are using stuff, that President Mellon
of the Water company himself said
he would not use, and our chances for
the betterment of the situation for
many months are to say the least very slim. What does President Mellon expect us all to do? Move out? If the water is not fit for use, and we are not not get any filtration plant,
that must be his idea. The incongruities of the suggestion are laughable. The water is impure and unfit for use, but we must pay our minimum of three dollars per quarter all
the same.

If the Water company of their own
volition will not take up the matter
of compromise and pass upon it at once, let the council get busy and
bring the matter to a head. The citizens want pure water, and has been said before they do not care how they
get it. If the Charleroi Water company does not get busy and furnish it,
then why not take the franchise off
their hands. What is the use of waiting months and perhaps years for the purpose of learning if the company is willing to compromise. They made
the first proposition and if they are willing to accept the terms, let them
get busy, and if not, push the affair
to the county courts, and the more baste the better. It would be a good idea if council should instruct the
attorneys to this effect at the next meeting. We have waited long enough already and if the case is to go to the county courts the sooner it
gets there the better it would be for every citizen of this town. But if the company wishes to settle, as they
manifestly do, a little urging would
do them good.

Decrease in 1907.

It is interesting to note that there
was considerable of a decrease in the
mortality from typhoid in this country
in the year 1907, the statistics of which have just been compiled and made public. In every state except
three this was true. These exceptions are New York, New Jersey and Colorado.

Naturally when one thinks of the
decrease they turn to the probable
cause. It is simply this—the Health departments are pursuing their duties
with a remarkable faithfulness and accomplishing wonders. They are
in other words cleaning out places,
and instead of allowing filth, and dirt,
are conducting a crusade for cleanliness, and in this way getting at the real root of the matter. Typhoid is contracted most often from drinking
impure water, which has in some way become filled with the germs, or in the living in filth and coming in contact with impure substances. It is more often the former however.

Wonderful to say Charleroi has not
suffered much from typhoid, yet at the same time the residents are using
stuff that could hardly be classified
in the same category as that of water,
—it is so dirty and impure. But the fact that the Health Board has been so persistent in the warnings of the people to beware of using the liquid
without boiling, has been greatly
responsible for this.

Electric Sparks.

Most people seem to think that if
they preach a thing in a loud shout
they need not practice it even in a faint whisper.

That variety of persons who are trying to prove that they are just as good as you are additions to the fe-tigue of society.

A pretty young girl of Duquesne
Was wooed by a penniless swaine,
Said she, "Without dough
You're in wrong, you know;
Sough beat it—you give me a pueene."

Another evidence of "his" popularity is the growing enthusiasm with
which all kinds and conditions of
people are bidding him good-by.

Seventy per cent of the Government
expenditures are for military outlay,
past, present or future. Can any other nation on a peace footing beat
it?

We may expect soon to hear of men
"running" for office upon a ticket
that denounces the veniform appendix
as a foe to our public institutions and
a menace to the constitution.

Secretary of State, a United States
Senator, the biggest man on the floor of congress, Speaker of the House at Harrisburg, and the chairman of the House and Senate appropriations
committees—anything the matter with Western Pennsylvania?

The newest British war ship has no
funnel. Seems a bit uncanny coming
so close on the noiseless gun.
Couldn't it be arranged to have warships navigate keel upward and complete the innovation?

If British postal authorities were
as alert as our own, a suffragette
would be excluded from the mails at once as an infernal machine.

Will the Panama fat never stop sizzling? Present Obaldia now pays his respects to the American Congress. "I have reformed my belief
regarding responsibility of its members," he says. Among them are liars—indecent and ignorant in a superlative degree."

A little girl who saved the lives of
nine children in the General Slocum disaster is to be rewarded with a medal for bravery. It is a gracious
and a fitting recognition of one who
sons who were really responsible for the Slocum horror?

After trying for a great many years
to tell the editors of Germany how a newspaper should be run, the Kaiser
has seen a great light and has determined to ask the newspapers to give him advice on running the government.

That Alabama man who stole socks
when his sweetheart wouldn't look at him because he didn't have any, found out that love does not also laugh at socksmiths.

That McKees Rocks man who was poisoned at Wilmerding by a bowl of
restaurant soup owes his life to the fact that he didn't get it in Menceon.

TOO MUCH ANALYSIS.

My Dear Mr. Gregory—I have considered the proposition with which you have honored me earnestly, thoughtfully, prayerfully. It behooves us who are past middle age to weigh well a step of such gigantic importance to us both. I acknowledge to forty-two, and you have told me that you are fifty-five. Are we not both too set in our ways to live together as husband and wife? I will admit that there are certain things about man in the abstract that I do not like. He has inherited from ages of acknowledged superiority dominating traits. Nevertheless man is like a great big good natured dog—unconscious of his power or, if conscious of it, loath to use it against our sex. He is unaware of the delicacy of a woman's feelings and often stalks through them in seven league boots. In this he is brutal though without intending to be brutal. I am going over in my mind some of these idiosyncrasies of man in the abstract with a view to determining whether I had better venture. I admit that I am undecided. I will try to arrive at a decision at an early date and inform you. Sincerely,
Elizabeth Montgomery.

My Dear Miss Montgomery—You are not expected to marry an abstract man, but one Gregory. I do not look upon you simply as a woman, but as one woman whom I love. Woman is a perpetual paradox, a chronic conundrum, an unknown quantity of unexpected possibilities and contradictions. She is man's greatest blessing and the ultimate cause of all his troubles. She is his chief inspiration to all that is good and noble and his greatest temptation to folly and sin. You see by these few idiosyncrasies of your sex that a man who marries abstract woman is a fool. My love is all concentrated on an individual, and that individual is your own sweet self. I am, with undying affection, yours,
Algernon Gregory.

Dear Mr. Gregory—If I was undecided before, your note has rendered me far more chary of linking my fate with one who has such peculiar ideas concerning my sex. Besides, since writing you other traits of men have come up before me for consideration, and I confess that many of them are not attractive. Man is a sensual creature, with no conception of a pure or holy love unalloyed with passion. He will rear like a lion at his wife before dinner and hand her his pocketbook after he has filled his stomach. He expects her to wear a smile when he comes home tired from his daily avocation, then proceeds at dinner to spill claret over her new tablecloth and after dinner to fill the curtains with the detestable odor of tobacco. I am still thinking of your flattering proposition. Cordially,
Elizabeth Montgomery.

My Dear Miss Montgomery—I fear I did not make my meaning plain to you. If woman is a paradox, she is a very delightful paradox—that is, at times. If woman is the cause of man's trouble, it must be admitted to her credit that as soon as he shakes off a trouble with one woman he is crazy to walk into another trouble with another woman. Is it not his own fault if he complains when the woman he loves is silent, then wishes to bottle her when she talks him to death? And why will a man tire a woman with every form of devotion when there are so many examples of the clinging affection of women for their wife beating husbands? These are truths which invite our careful consideration. With the usual expressions of affection,
Algernon Gregory.

Mr. Gregory—I am thoroughly convinced that no man entertaining such notions of women in the abstract is fit to take a wife. The consequences of my acceptance of your offer, such consequences being derived from your letters, would be as follows: I should at once plunge you into trouble, tempt you to sin. You would wish to escape from your alliance with me to enter upon another alliance with another woman. I should tire of your devotion (or what you would doubtless call devotion) and encourage you to beat me. Such being the case, I have decided to decline your very flattering offer with sincere thanks. Yours respectfully,
Elizabeth Montgomery.

Dear Miss Montgomery—If I were not "loath to use my power against your sex" I would be tempted to hold you to an accountability under the doctrine of categorical syllogisms for your logical deductions. On my part I began this series of notes by pronouncing your sex "an unknown quantity of unexpected possibilities." You have proved yourself a woman in the abstract as well as an individual. During this correspondence I have formed my conclusions as to what you would eternally do. I thought of what you might be expected to do, then assumed that you would do the opposite. My prognosis has been in every respect

Your Lover,
Algernon Gregory
Dearest Algernon—Come and see me tomorrow evening.
Elizabeth Montgomery

NEW Table Linen

Beautiful Snowy White Linens—just here—prettier than we have ever had before. Table Linens in widths and qualities with Napkins to match.

The Linens you buy here can be depended upon. You can rely on them wearing good, for we select them with the greatest care from the stock of the largest and most famous Linen Importer in the country.

New Dress Goods

The new stock for spring is here. And its full and complete. We pride ourselves on only selling good worthy wearable cloths. The kind you can depend on for color and service. There are lots of times we could buy a cloth that would look just as good and on which we could make a larger profit. But our dress goods must come up to our standard, must be good in every way even if we make but little profit. So while the variety is large the price and quality are right.

Carpets and Rugs

All we ask of you is to come and see — We know that we are far and away the largest dealers and own and sell our Carpets and Rugs for less than any one else. We know that if you once see our immense stock you will realize at once that this is the only place to buy. You can look at our hundred and fifty or more full room sized rugs are different. Is there another dealer in the valley that can show you half as many?

Fulfilling His Agreement.
Having become tired of living in rented houses, Mr. Gwimble had bought a home of his own. Not having enough money to pay for it outright he had made a cash payment of $1,000 and given a trust deed on the property for the remainder. One night, not long after he had taken possession of his new home, Mrs. Gwimble roused him from a deep sleep.

"Gerald," she said, "somebody is trying to get into the house."

Mr. Gwimble crawled out of bed and started downstairs.

"What are you going to do?" she asked him.

"I'm going to let him in," he answered, half awake.

"To let him in? Who?"

Ancient Egyptian Stones.
Stones were formed into the shapes of beetles by the ancient Egyptians. They regarded the beetle as an emblem of immortality, and hence it was the most popular of all forms of ornament. Counterfeit beetles of common stones were commonly buried with dead persons, and it was customary to engrave upon them the expression of wishes for future repose and happiness, dedications of the soul to God and various hieroglyphs. One of the latter was a hawk with a human head, symbolizing resurrection. Another, the culture, meant maternity. A goose was the son of a king.

Sorting Pearls.

The Gems Vary Greatly in Size, Shape and Quality.

When the pearls are taken from the dead fish they are first sorted according to size. This is done by passing them through a set of ten small brass sieves, called baskets, with meshes of varying sizes. Pearls of the first class that are perfect both in sphericity and in luster are called uni. Those of the second class, that to the average observer seem equally without flaw, are antari, and most of the pearls we see in the west and on general sale come under this head. Of the third class, called masaku, are those that are somewhat irregular in shape and a trifle off in color, but that are valuable for use in clusters and are largely used by eastern artificers in mountings of various sorts. Kural is the double or twinned pearl, which, when of good luster and sufficiently freakish shape, is sometimes enormously valuable. In this class the most wonderful specimen on record is the great Southern Cross pearl, which is in reality nine pearls naturally grown together and forming a perfect cross an inch and a half long. It was found off the coast of India in 1857. Masaku seed pearls and rejections, called yadru, are generally ground into chunam and used as an ingredient in a favorite sweetmeat. From China also comes a heavy demand for seed pearls, and in India bushels of them literally are used in the decoration of idols and sacred images and of weapons as well. —Everybody's.
